Free Trade Agreement certificate (FTAC)

The Free Trade Agreement Certificate (FTAC) is an online programme that provides a clear understanding of the often difficult and legalistic FTA rules to enter key overseas market.

The advanced-level curriculum provides a collaborative mapping of how business units can come together to overcome perceived technicalities and generate revenue-boosting solutions.

Who's taking the FTAC?

Trade & logistics

Carriers, customs brokers, forwarders, insurers, logistics service providers, professionals working in supply chain and manufacturing, as well as trade consultants.

Corporates

Audit, legal, procurement, sales, taxation and trade compliance teams, as well as business development executives.

Why take the FTAC?

- Learn how to expand and source your business activities more competitively via FTAs
- Save valuable resources by leveraging tariff elimination and reduction on specific products when traded via FTAs
- Avoid costly mistakes by understanding sanitary, anti-dumping, and phytosanitary measures, including worst-case scenarios

Certificate structure

Divided into 5 lessons, the programme was developed by Globalab's Principal Trainer, Maler Vilee, who has more than 15 years of experience working with governments in trade, investment and free trade agreements. The three-hour interactive course aims to train companies, especially small and medium-sized enterprises, to be adept at using FTAs to boost export competitiveness and identify new growth opportunities.

Price

The price of this certificate is US $350. This includes access to all 5 lessons, in addition to the assessment examination.

Certificate outline

- Lesson 1: Strategic Planning Behind FTAs
- Lesson 2: Overview of the FTA basics
- Lesson 3: Importance of FTAs for Business Operations

“As a global trading hub, Singapore’s extensive network of 24 Free Trade Agreements (FTAs) and Economic Partnership Agreements (EPAs) help our companies access overseas market opportunities with FTA partner countries. It is increasingly important for companies to be adept at using FTAs to boost export competitiveness and identify new growth opportunities. The latest FTA Certificate Programme by the ICC Academy supports professionals handling cross-border trade with the foundation of FTA regulations to enhance their understanding and its applications.”
