Rebuilding trust, driving innovation:
The future of supply chain finance in a fragmented world

Join global leaders in trade, finance, policy, and technology at the ICC Academy's flagship Supply Chain Finance Summit. Back for 2025, this two-day event will bring together experts and decision-makers to explore how the supply chain finance (SCF) ecosystem is evolving in the face of rising geopolitical tensions, digital disruption, and demands for greater sustainability and transparency.

Agenda highlights include:

- How can we rebuild trust and ensure compliance across increasingly complex supply chains?
- What does the future of liquidity look like in a world of rising interest rates and credit tightening?
- How are technologies like blockchain, AI, and digital documentation reshaping efficiency and risk models?
- What skills, strategies, and leadership will define the next generation of trade finance professionals?
- Can decentralised finance (DeFi) coexist—or even lead—the next evolution of SCF?
