

Ethical Marketing And Advertising (EMA)

The Ethical Marketing and Advertising (EMA) is a specialised programme providing the latest training needed to conceptualise, design and deliver responsible marketing communications.

The advanced-level course offers the know-how and skills to spot and avoid ethics violations, critical to those looking to build consumer trust and brand loyalty.

Who's taking the EMA?

Advertisers, marketers and other professionals working for regulators advocacy groups, advertising associations and academic institutions, including their business students.

Why take the EMA?

- The only official academic adaptation of the ICC Marketing and Advertising Code — an industry standard for over 80 years
- Learn to produce transparent and effective forms of international advertising
- Create a healthy brand for your company to earn customer loyalty for long-term strategic growth

About the ICC Academy

The ICC Academy was founded in 2015 as a training and knowledge hub for trade professionals worldwide. We are the educational arm of the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), the world’s business organisation setting rules and standards that facilitate around two-thirds of global trade in goods. We offer a wide range of learning resources, including market-leading certifications, short courses and the ICC Digital Library that all leverage ICC’s network of over 45 million members in more than 170 countries, including many of the world’s largest companies, SMEs, business associations and local chambers of commerce.
